

My name is Kim and I have known Scott for many years from attending the same church. Our church has a wonderful choir and orchestra that Scott is a part of. He is an outstanding person and an extremely talented guitar player.

When my teenage son asked if he could take guitar lessons last fall, Scott is the first person that came to mind. I have been amazed at how far Ethan has come in his ability in just 7 months. Scott is so knowledgeable and patient with Ethan. He feels very relaxed and comfortable with Scott, and I love the fact that the lessons are in our home!

My older son who is home from college for the summer has heard Ethan playing guitar and has decided to take lessons as well! It is my pleasure to recommend Scott to anyone interested in learning how to play the guitar.
