Professional Pilot between contracts

I chose to take lessons to correct inadequate skills that I had learned as a teenager.

I met Scott through his employment at Lifeway Christian Bookstores and found out that he also provided guitar lessons. Our conversation quickly revealed that he was someone I wanted to learn from.

I have continued to take lessons with Scott because he is very patient and dedicated to improving my skills as a gospel guitar player. He has been very open to teaching me what I wanted to improve upon and learn. Even though I had a basic understanding of musical theory, he has greatly enhanced my understanding on that aspect of music. I am now confident and able to play at church and in a nursing home ministry.

I have been taking lessons almost one year.

I recommend Kesler Guitar because he has a desire to enhance a person's ability no matter what skill level you may be. His patience and teaching style ensures that each lesson is productive.
