

“My son has taken music lessons with Scott Kesler since he was in Kindergarten. Now he’s going into seventh grade. We have been very thankful to have Scott as a guitar teacher—he guides and teaches with a personal and caring touch.

Scott allows my son to grow in his gift of music in a way that encourages and strengthens him in other areas of his life.

I was especially thankful when Scott worked diligently alongside my son when he wrote and performed his first original song last year.

My son also has enjoyed Scott’s visits to a few of his baseball games! Scott cares deeply for his students and wants to see them reach their goals in music and in life.

We highly recommend Scott as a music teacher for any student at any level in their music endeavors.”
